A Singular Case in Court.

(From the London Globe.)

TESTIMONY.—V. THE BISHOP OF LONDON.
Yesterday morning I was on hearing, before Mr. Francis Bayley, judge of the Westminster County Court, at the Court House, St. Martin's Lane, in which the Messrs. Thrappe, coach-builders and metropolitan police magistrate for the Lambeth district, recovered the sum of £49 10s. being done to a brougham belonging to the Hon. Mr. Norton, who had for some years past been separated from his wife. Mr. Dodd attended on behalf of the Messrs. Thrappe, and Mr. Norton, as agent for the Hon. Mr. Norton, who was also present himself during the proceeding.

Mr. Dodd, in opening the case for the plaintiffs, stated that he had no account for repairs, executed by Mr. Norton, except £200, which he had given him to pay to the brougham, expended over a period beginning on the 1st April, 1843, and ending on the 17th of March, 1844. The total amount thus incurred was £164 10s. of which £150 had been accounted for, leaving a balance of £14 10s. still due, which was the subject of the present action.

The Judge interposed, and said that he could not see how that question bore upon the case, as it appeared from the evidence that a deduction for legacy duty had been made.

Mr. Norton—In July, in the same year, did not receive a deduction of £200, 5s per cent.

Mr. Dodd—No, that is the legacy duty.

Mr. Norton—Do you know what is the income tax?

Mr. Dodd—Yes, I do.

Mr. Norton—Then, as far as I am concerned, I have paid my income tax.

Mr. Dodd—No, you have not.

Mr. Norton—Yes, I have.

Mr. Dodd—No, you have not.
